

Adriana Sánchez

I have always considered myself passionate for law and justice, which I believe are the essential values behind the growth of our societies. Excellence and dedication have been the driving force behind my education and development in the past years. I graduated with honors from the Faculty of Law at the Universidad Nacional de Asunción (2004) and have a Master's degree in International Legal Studies from Georgetown University (LL.M. 2007). I have also participated in other postgraduate programs, both national and abroad, organized by prestigious universities such as Salamanca, Heidelberg, among others.

Over twenty years of legal practice, with experience in litigation, legal advice, research, and teaching, allow me to have an integral vision of the reality that surrounds us, which helps me connect with the necessities of the client, even before they are perceived.

I currently focus my practice on corporate, investment, finances, and real estate law, among other activities. I am excited about the challenges and trends in the world of business, and, primarily, the task of understanding and accompanying the businesses of our clients!
